

The day I played for Scotland

Today was the best day of my life. It all started when I was in the Scotland girls changing room. It was so huge and spacious it was like I was in a mansion. It was like there was a big fight out there because people were shouting like crazy.

When I walked out of the changing room people were flashing their cameras and I saw a lot of people with Scotland face paint on. I think my ears were about to fall off because the crowd was so loud. I think the crowd knew I was ready to do this.

While I was watching the game, someone from the other team was coming my way with the ball. I got ready in case he was going to shoot. The next thing I saw was the ball going into the net. I was so mad when I heard the other team cheering.

As soon as I got the ball I could see Scotland flags flying all around the place and I could hear the crowd cheering as I scored and I was very happy and excited.

As soon as the whistle blew. Champagne was spraying and I could hear everyone cheering because we had won. I was so happy and excited at the same time. My team could not hold our excitement any longer. We were running up and down the pitch excitedly. And if the crowd did not know I was very very happy.
